NEWARK GIRL WHO MARRIED A CHINAMAN

TERRIBLY BEATEN BY HUSBAND SEEKS PROTECTION OF THE POLICE.

COLUMBUS WARRANT ISSUED

Miss McKee's Elopement With Lauman Whom She Met in 1905
Ends Badly.

Rheda Mora formerly Rhoda McKee daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McKee of 171 Barclay street Texas this city, who eloped with a Chinese laundryman whom she met here in 1905, has discovered her husband to be far from the most agreeable companion, and as a result of abuse at his hands she filed an affidavit against her husband in Columbus on Saturday night.

Mrs. Mora is said to be but 17 years of age, but gave her age as 19 when securing a marriage license in Columbus. She is said to have lived with her Mongolian husband but a short time when this abuse became intolerant and she left him, coming to Buckeye Lake park, where she was about to end it all in the water, when she was met by an aeronaut who made several ascensions at the lake last summer. He persuaded her to live as long as she could. With this encouragement she joined the man in his exhibitions and, it will be remembered, made an ascension herself at Idlewild park under the title of Mile, somebody.

The following from Columbus, gives in detail the troubles of the Newark girl with her Chinese-French husband:

Columbus, Dec. 31.—An elopement at the tender age of 16 years and a marriage to a Chinaman has resulted disastrously for Mrs. Rhoda Mora, nee McKee, for on Saturday night she was forced to swear out an affidavit against her Mongolian husband, charging him with assault and battery.

The girl is the daughter of James McKee, a railroad man residing in Newark, her parents being respectable, though in meager circumstances as the father was injured in a railroad accident some time ago and will never be able to work again.

In 1905 the girl, then working in a restaurant in Newark, met Mora, the Chinaman, who made love to her and because of the slight vein of French blood which flowed in his body, proved himself most captivating. The girl, then but 15 years of age, became infatuated with him, but when her parents learned of her love for the foreigner they objected strenuously. All to no purpose, however, as in February, 1906, the couple eloped in Columbus and the girl, then 16 years old, gave her age to Clerk Morrison as 19.

Soon the placid sea of love became ruffled, however, and the Chinaman's interest in his American wife began to lag. Mistreatment followed and after a few short weeks he began beating his girl wife and on several occasions he choked her almost into insensibility. Beatings and kickings caused the wife to leave her Oriental "master," and during the past summer she did not live with him.

Two weeks ago she returned to him on his promise of good behavior but the old habits were soon renewed and on Saturday he told her that she could return home and stay there if she wanted to. Being without funds she went to the chop suey restaurant of King Yen Low, Rich and High streets, where Mora is employed as waiter, and asked him for money enough to purchase a ticket home. "Get the money the best way you can," he told her.

"I'll get it if I had to beg," was the girl's answer, whereupon the Chinaman struck his wife in the face and knocked her down. He then threw her backwards over a chair and beat her about the face, head and body, and when she fell to the floor he kicked her in the side.

The girl escaped and ran to police headquarters, followed by Mora, who disappeared upon seeing her destination. With tears of repentance and little cries of pain, she told her story. The warrant was sworn out, however, and Patrolman Speakman started out at once to find the Mongolian.

Further investigation of the case at Saturday night by Patrolman Speakman brought forth the almost insane jealousy which Mora had felt for his white wife, as well. It is said, some apparently good reasons for this. The officer did not find Mora, but the girl, for she is only a girl in years, told of various attempts made by her husband to take her life in fits of jealousy.

Only last Tuesday night he had locked himself and his wife in a room and then turned on the gas in

MRS. TRAUTMAN IS VINDICATED, COURT SCORES ACCUSER.

PETER J. HOGAN

MRS. ALEXANDER TRAUTMAN

DR. ALEXANDER TRAUTMAN

"BUFFALO" KITTY WATSON

New York, Dec. 31.—Mrs. Alexander Trautman has been completely vindicated. The sensational accusation made against her by Peter J. Hogan was dismissed and she was honorably discharged. Granting a motion for the dismissal of the charge, Magistrate Finn said:

"I want to say to you, Hogan, that you are laboring under hallucinations of some sort. The evidence introduced here does not uphold you in any degree, but is all on the side of Mrs. Trautman. It seems that you went to two libraries and reported that you had lost money, and then you come out and charge Mrs. Trautman with stealing it from you. It is all very unusual and incomprehensible.

"Perhaps you were only comforting yourself with the delusion that you had $13. I can't understand how any sane man would entertain a charge like this. Even now, after you, by your self deception or something else, have defamed this woman and insulted her, she, with a true Christian spirit, believes you honest and only mistaken."

It had been decided by counsel for Mrs. Trautman to cause the arrest of Hogan on the charge of assault, but on Mrs. Trautman's suggestion it was deemed best to let the entire matter drop. She had alman and insulted her, she, with a ready made an affidavit accusing him of assault in connection with her arrest, but that was withdrawn. Mrs. Trautman's attorney said that Dr. Trautman believed that Hogan was a victim of self-hypnotism.

Mrs. Trautman is the wife of a prominent doctor and member of an old Southern family.

Both the grate and the wall light, but the wife turned the gas off in time to save their lives.

Some time ago they had rooms on East Gay street, and here the woman claims her husband almost choked her to death and then locking the door left her alone the remainder of the night, all the next day and a part of the following night, before he repented.

That Mora has some cause for his jealousy is shown by the statement alleged to have been made by the woman that last summer she ran off with an aeronaut, touring the country fairs and even making balloon ascensions herself. She told the patrolman, he says, that she married Mora for a home, as he had promised to be good to her and not let her work. She also said that her father and mother were members of the Salvation Army.

Both the grate and the wall light, but the wife turned the gas off in time to save their lives.

BOLD HOLD-UP BY LONE BANDIT ON VIRGINIA TRAIN

(Bulletin.)
Richmond, Va., Dec. 31.—This morning early as Sea Board Air Line train No. 81 approached La Crosse, Va., 75 miles south of Richmond, a daring holdup took place. A passenger apparently about 25, who boarded the train at Richmond, walked into a Pullman car and took a seat in the smoking compartment. The conductor and porter of the Pullman were in the day coach at the time. As the porter returned the stranger placed a pistol to his head and forced him to lock both doors of the sleeper after which masking himself he went through the car holding up the passengers at the point of his pistol. He had secured $8 from a passenger when the Pullman conductor forced his way in and attempted to arrest the thief. The robber shot the conductor and pulling the emergency brake cord stopped the train and disappeared in the woods. The conductor is wounded in the arm but not seriously hurt.

CASSIE TO STAY.
Columbus, Dec. 31.—Cassie Chadwick will serve her sentence in the Ohio penitentiary and the department of justice never intended to remove her or any other United States female prisoner to a federal prison. This information was received in Columbus today, from the attorney general of the United States.

ASSESSMENT DECISION.
Marion, O., Dec. 31.—In a last case in regard to special assessment for street improvements brought in Common Pleas court here by agreement of the county auditor and city officials, an important decision was rendered by Judge Young today. A short time ago Attorney General Ellis handed out the opinion that illegal assessments can only be corrected by a suit brought in courts by the party assessed. Judge Young says this is not necessary and the auditor can drop from the duplicate any assessment illegally made or one in excess of the legal percentage of 5 per cent.

FORTY ARRESTED.

Kief, Russia, Dec. 31.—All members of the local committee of the Social Democrats, consisting of 40 men, were arrested today.

HARRY K. THAW DECLARED INSANE BY AN EXPERT

New York, Dec. 31.—Dr. A. McLane Hamilton, the alienist, returned from a trip to London on the steamship Canonia. Speaking of Harry K. Thaw, who is soon to be tried for the murder of Stanford White, Dr. Hamilton, who some time ago examined Thaw, said: "Thaw is in a dangerous predicament. It is the first time in the history of our country that a lunatic wants to try his own case. In my opinion Thaw is worse than Colossus. I think District Attorney Jerome would accept a plea of insanity." Dr. Hamilton said that he had met Thaw's half-brother in London and he understood that all of the prisoner's brothers and sisters were in favor of his being taken care of, but that H. K. Thaw had won over his mother in going to trial.

EX-PRESIDENT CLEVELAND IS ILL

Phil. Con., N. J., Dec. 31.—There is no improvement today in the condition of ex-President Grover Cleveland, who has been seriously ill for over a week. His acute attack of indigestion has not yielded easily to treatment.
Mrs. Cleveland stated this afternoon that the former President's condition is not at all serious and that he is only suffering from a slight attack of indigestion.

BORDENKIRCKER DIES OF INJURY WIFE ARRESTED

COSHOCOTON MAN WHO WAS SHOT
CHRISTMAS DAY PASSED AWAY SUNDAY.

WOMAN IS LODGED IN JAIL

Postmortem Examination Showed That Bullet Had Lodged in Man's Liver.

Coshocoton, O., Dec. 31.—Levi Bordenkircher, who was shot by his wife, Ida May Bordenkircher, during a drunken brawl in their home in this city on Christmas day, died Sunday afternoon as the result of his wound.

Bordenkircher's chances for recovery for a while were considered very favorable, but during Saturday night peritonitis set in and he sank rapidly.

Immediately after the victim died Chief of Police J. R. Mapel re-arrested Mrs. Bordenkircher, who had been released on a $500 bond shortly after the shooting. The woman was locked up in jail. She will probably be given a preliminary hearing today.

During the afternoon Coroner T. W. Lear assisted by Drs. F. M. Marshall and J. McCurdy, made a postmortem examination of the dead man, and found that the bullet had penetrated the bowels and lodged in the liver.

Feeling in this city runs high as a result of the shooting and owing to the reputation which the accused woman bears some sensational disclosures are looked for when she is placed on trial on the probable charge of murder.

RUNAWAY CAR. TURNS TURTLE

DASHES DOWN HILL IN CITY OF CINCINNATI AND THEN
JUMPS TRACK.

Thirty People Injured, Four or Five
Being Probably Fatally Hurt.

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 31.—In the wrecking of a runaway electric car on the Warsaw avenue hill in this city, one person was killed and at least 30 injured, four fatally. The motorman discovered at the top of the hill that he had lost control of the car, and tried to set the emergency brake, but it failed, and the car ran at an increasingly high speed for five blocks, jumping the track at what is known as the Horse Shoe curve. The car struck a telegraph pole and turned turtle, the passengers being thrown in a heap in the mud beside the track or buried in the wreck of the car. Hiram Leisler, a passenger, by operating the brake on the rear platform, probably prevented a much worse accident, as his action, made at great personal risk, reduced the speed of the car materially before it left the track.

The dead: W. H. Curnay, passenger. The injured: Catherine O'Hara, stenographer, seriously; J. E. Lowman, conductor, may die; James Hall, motorman, serious; Fred Gansel, may die; George Wanninger, serious; Mr. and Mrs. John Haney, both serious; Rev. I. Bentley, back broken; Miss Martha Hill, broken leg; James Corcoran, badly cut about head; Mr. and Mrs. Borken; Edna and Martha Longsdale, badly hurt; Dan Kernan.

Others injured were: Jennie Moebus, contusions and lacerations about body; Stella Moebus, contusions and lacerations; Elsie Moebus, contusions; Frank Curnay, 3, son of William H. Curnay, cuts and bruises about the head and back; Ralph Lonsway, 17, cut in the face and head.

YOUNG WIFE IS FOUND DYING IN NEW YORK HOTEL

LOVER SHOTS HER AND THEN ENDS OWN LIFE WITH A PISTOL.

WANTED TO MARRY HER

But Octogenarian Husband Whom Girl Married Two Years Ago
Was in Way.

New York, Dec. 31.—Sidney Kaufman and his companion, Mrs. Eva Totten, who were shot while both were guests at the Hotel Knickerbocker, are dead in a hospital from the effects of their wounds. Not until told by the physicians in attendance that her recovery was impossible did she admit her identity. The dead woman was Mrs. Eva I. Totten, wife of John Totten of Tottenville, S. I. She was 23 years of age and her husband is in his eighty-third year. They were married two years ago. Her companion at the hotel was Sidney Kaufman, aged 30 years, and the son of wealthy parents. Hotel employees, attracted by the reports of revolver shots, found Kaufman and the woman unconscious in the room assigned them.

Mrs. Totten, in a statement told the police that Kaufman and she were in love and that he desired her to marry him at once. She wished to wait until she had secured a divorce. Over this they had quarreled. "It was a love affair," said the woman. "Sidney insisted that I marry him and I tried to make him understand how impossible that would be under present circumstances. He said just a few minutes before he shot me, as near as I can recall, 'I want you to marry me, Eva, without further delay. If you don't, you will have to take the consequences.' I was expostulating with him when I heard a pistol shot and felt a stinging sensation in the pit of my stomach. I staggered to a table and dropped on it. I thought I heard a hundred shots fired after that."

POPE PIUS WILL ISSUE AN ADDRESS

Rome, Dec. 31.—The approval by the French senate of the amended separation law did not cause surprise at the Vatican. What the holy see now awaits is the application of the law, during which the pope will issue an address to French Catholics; but when this will be done or in what form has not been decided. The pope is reported to have said: "Our prayers are for the assistance of the whole Catholic world for the French clergy in order to help them through persecution to final victory." Cardinal Tripepi, who died Saturday, left the whole of his patrimony, amounting to $1,000,000, to the pope.

ADMITS MURDER

Philadelphia, Dec. 31.—John G. Price, who has been under arrest in this city since Dec. 8, according to a statement made by Captain of Detectives Donahy has confessed that he murdered Mrs. Maurice Lewis in this city on Sept. 10. In a written statement Price says that with a companion he went to the woman's house for the purpose of robbery. They represented themselves to be plumbers. While his companion was searching the upstairs room, Price says that Mrs. Lewis came up stairs and caught him. Price says he then stabbed the woman through the heart with a lance.

ATHENS RIOT

May Be Drawn Into Contest Now Being Waged By Senator and President.

Athens, O., Dec. 31.—The riot in this city during the military maneuvers in 1904 is to figure in the contest between the president and Senator Foraker over the discharge of the colored battalion of the Twenty-fifth regiment because of the Brownsville "shooting up." The riot here grew out of the hostile feeling between members of the state militia and the regular troops detailed to take part in the maneuvers. The indicted soldiers arraigned for trial were defended in part by representatives of the army. It is understood that the first advance toward securing the records was made by those in league with Senator Foraker. The purpose is to show that the secretary of war has not, according to the negro soldiers, shown the same sympathetic treatment as was shown white soldiers.

AMUSEMENTS

THE CLAY BAKER.

William V. Mong, in his novel play "The Clay Baker," will be presented here New Year's matinee and night. "The Clay Baker" tells the story of a Pennsylvania potter who has spent his life and energy in attempting to discover an unbreakable china. He gave up his money, his time and almost his very life in the attempt to discover this lost secret. The plot is strong, the situations impressive, and the play is detail one of the best that has ever been seen here. The presenting company is also a very strong one and is headed by William V. Mong, a young actor who displays a fine conception of the part of Peter Denig, the clay baker. There are many opportunities for Mr. Mong to display his ability, and he takes advantage of them all, winning the admiration of his audience by his thorough work. Mr. Mong is supported by a capable company.

ON NEW YORK'S EAST SIDE.

How New Year's Day is Celebrated in the Italian Colony.

The little boys and girls of Mulberry street, on New York's queer east side, keep their pockets, purses and savings banks ready for New Year's. This is their great day. Whether or not the American Santa Claus put anything in their stockings on Christmas, their own uncles and aunts cannot get off without strena de capo d'anno (New Year's gift). The strena is confined to the children and to cash. It is to be distributed by the relatives and friends of the household on New Year's day, when calls and congratulations are in order. "Buon capo d'anno!" ("A good head of the year!")

"Lo stesso a voi per cento anni!" ("The same to you for a hundred years!")

When the greetings are over the guests will be treated to vermicelli served with a special sort of sauce and salad and "merluzzo" prepared with oil and lemon juice. The thought of the New Year's viands makes the black eyed children smack their red lips, and their time is taken up with discussing it as well as with making forecasts as to how much of a strena Uncle So-and-so and Cousin So-and-so will put in his or her little hand before leaving.

THE NEW YEAR IN JAPAN.

The Day When the Mikado Has to Get Up at 5 o'clock.

Quaint and curious New Year customs exist in Japan, where the 1st of January commences with a religious festival celebrated at 5 in the morning. At this time the mikado, dressed in Japanese costume, proceeds from the palace, followed by his deputies arrayed in ancient style and the foreign diplomats in regalia dress. He enters a small building or temple, prostrates himself to the east, west, north and south, and all present pray for the prosperity of the nation.

Later at a ceremonial breakfast the emperor and empress receive their family and court for three hours, the rooms being thronged. At the expiration of that time the real year begins, and a formal luncheon is served from which each guest is expected to take a cup and saucer as a souvenir.

Among the people the earth and heaven are propitiated by offerings of rice and vegetables, and strips of red paper are pasted on the doors as a sign of good luck. This color is used exclusively save in cases where a death has occurred within a year, when blue paper is used instead of red. The day ends with people still saluting each other and attending the plays at the theaters, where gorgeous robes and monotonous voices are the distinguishing features.—New York World.

New Year's on the Ganges.

To know whether one will outlive the year is almost universally regarded as a very desirable piece of knowledge, and to acquire it the men and women of different nations resort to various stratagems to compel fate to stand and deliver. The dweller by the Ganges lights a tiny rush candle and fixes it upright on a bit of board, which he launches on the waters of the sacred stream. If it remains afloat until he can count 777, the perfect number, he regards his prospects as good for the year. If it goes out the omen is unfavorable. He gives himself the benefit of expedition, too, for instead of counting in prosaic fashion—one, two, three, four—in the old slow style, he counts by leaps and bounds—five, ten, fifteen, twenty, twenty-five, thirty—and thus takes advantage of the flickering candle and fluctuating wave and increases his length of days by the gibbness of his tongue.—Pittsburg Press.

Watching the Old Year Out.

Watching the old year out has been a common custom in many lands. In most countries it assumes with the serious moods the phase of devotion. In many countries where Roman Catholicism is the prevalent form of faith the year is begun with midnight masses. Among the Greek Catholics the same usage prevails. It declined in the Church of England, but was revived by several of the dissenting bodies, the watch night of the Methodists being merely a modification of the once general practice. Among the convivially inclined, however, watch night is taken anything but seriously, and the new year is welcomed with such signs of rejoicing as to one who did not understand the customs would seem to indicate that all men were heartily tired of existence and glad to see their years go by as speedily as possible.

The First January New Year's Day.

Caesar selected the feast of Janus, the two faced god of war, as the year's great mile stone, because the statue of this god seemed to look back into the past and forward into the future; hence on New Year's day we are still paying tribute to a heathen god. Prior to the reform of the calendar the Romans observed the 21st day of December, the winter solstice, as the beginning of the year. This date and the summer solstice, the 21st of June, as well as the vernal and autumnal equinoctial changes in March and September, have come in for first place in the year at various times in the history of the world.

Jackson's New Year Reception

How "Old Hickory" Entertained the British at New Orleans in 1815.

PLENTY OF FIREWORKS

Sunrise Salute of Fifty Guns Began a Holiday Which Closed In a Great American Victory.

"I HAVE heard my grandfather tell time and time again," said an aged citizen of New Orleans, "of the reception which General Jackson gave to the British on New Year's day in the year of grace 1815 and believe I can write it down exactly as he repeated it to me, for he was there, taking a very active part in the ceremonies, if the reports of his superior officers are entitled to credit, as of course they are.

"You must know first of the situation at New Orleans on the dawning of this New Year's day, and that can be told in a few words.

"General Jackson had 4,000 men, twenty pieces of artillery and one armed schooner with which to defend the city, and the defense of New Orleans

"COME UP HERE, YOU BLASTED BRITISH!"

meant the defense of the state of Louisiana and the entire Mississippi valley. The whole British army consisted of 7,000 land troops, with a fleet numbering more than fifty vessels of all sizes and rigs.

"Our people had thrown up a breast-work three feet in height along the entire front of the army, and the British built three 'half moon' batteries of earth and sugar casks about 600 yards from Jackson's line, arming them with thirty heavy guns which had been brought up from the fleet.

"On New Year's morning both armies were hidden under a dense fog which did not lift until nearly 8 o'clock, but as soon as it was possible to see the British opened fire from their batteries, and it seemed much as if every gunner aimed at the house in which was General Jackson's headquarters. In less than ten minutes the building had been struck by more than a hundred shot and shell, and the commander in chief, with his staff, was forced to seek some other place from which to direct the troops in the battle then just beginning. Of course the American guns had not been silent while the enemy was pouring into the city such a shower of iron.

"When this battle of the guns had continued for an hour or more, with the American lines comparatively unharmed and the enemy's batteries showing here and there great gaps, which told that they would be speedily demolished unless there was a change in the method of fighting, the British made a determined attack on the left of General Jackson's line, which extended into the swamp, and my grandfather was among those sent forward to meet it.

"And now to tell the story from my grandfather's own lips, as it were: "When Coffee's Tennessee regiment, of which I was a member, gained that portion of our line which the British were threatening they were advancing to the charge, most likely thinking to frighten us by that long line of glittering steel bayonets. But we had gone there for just such kind of work, and I venture to say that never one of us showed the white feather.

"We poured into their ranks a shower of lead which cut many a wide gap, but the Britishers only closed up the line, coming forward like a machine and showing us that Americans were not the only ones who knew how to die at such a time.

"Well, for a few moments they actually overran us with that line of steel points, and, having once dis-charged our weapons, we had no chance to reload. The only thing for us, who did not intend to be put out of the fight until it couldn't be helped was to grapple with that red coated machine, for we couldn't get near enough owing to the bayonets to strike a decent blow with our clubbed muskets.

"It was as rough and tumble a fight

as I ever saw, even when the combatants were unarmed, and the fact that we clung to them like cats was what knocked the Britishers out of time, for they, with all their experience in such business, had never come up against anything like it.

"It was my ill luck to get hold of a big Britisher who was fifteen or twenty pounds heavier and stood a full head taller, but while he was trying to run me through with his bayonet I had a chance to get the hold I wanted, and down we went. Again had fortune deserted me, for while falling he so contrived to twist his body that he fell on top, and for a few moments I had quite as much as I could do to keep pumping air into my lungs owing to the grip he had on my throat.

"Now, it stands to reason that I didn't lie still so's to give him a good chance to choke me to death, but wiggled the best I knew how, and, thanks to some of the tricks I had learned among the mountains, it was soon possible to roll him over. There wasn't enough strength left in my body to keep an upper hold, but over and over we went until we struck the swamp, and that which I thought would be the death of me proved my advantage.

"We had wallowed in the soft mud and water until we must have looked like clay images, when I let go my hold to grip him by the head and, putting forth every ounce of muscle, managed to so far turn it that his face was pressed deep into the mud. That took a good bit of the fight out of him, for of course he couldn't breathe and was trying to yell for quarter, when up came some of our boys.

"It stands to reason that they couldn't make out which man came from England and grabbed at the first that came handiest, which just then happened to be me.

"Come up here, you blasted Britisher!" the best friend I had in the regiment shouted as he pulled me back by the collar of my coat, and I wasn't much more than a half drowned kitten in his clutch.

"Let go of me, you idiot!" I yelled as soon as it was possible to get some of the mud out of my mouth. "Don't you know your own comrade?"

"The Britisher wasn't anybody's fool, and of course he understood just what a mistake had been made. He came up on his feet like a steel spring, and while my comrades were crowding over having captured one of the enemy, as they supposed, he took to his heels, running like a deer, with the mud falling off him in flakes until some one saw what kind of a uniform he wore.

"In all that squad only a single man had a charge in his gun, and he fired at the poor fellow, but it was the wildest kind of a snapshot, and the bullet went wide, of course.

"By the time I had cleared my face of mud the Britisher was out of range, and perhaps I didn't talk the sweetest I knew how to the blundering fellow who had not only lost me a prisoner, but came very near finishing the choking which the redcoat had begun.

"Then the battle was well nigh over," my grandfather always said at this point in his story, and as to the result of the engagement he would give me a well worn slip of printed paper, from which I could read the following:

"Toward noon the fire of the British visibly slackened, while that of the Americans was unceasing. The batteries of the foe were crushed and broken. The sugar hogsheads had been converted into splinters, and their contents, mingling with the soft earth, soon lost their volume. The guns not dismounted were careened and worked with great difficulty.

"The invaders fled in inglorious haste, better skelter, to the ditches in search of safety and under cover of the ensuing night crawled sullenly back to their camp, dragging with them over the spongy ground a part of their cannon, leaving five of them a spoil for the Americans."

"In the fight that day the American loss was eleven killed and twenty-three wounded, while twenty of the Britishers were found dead on the field, the greater number lying near the swamp where the attack on our lines had been made, and certain it is that no less than thirty had been disabled."

A Bloody New Year's Day.

"Our custom of celebrating New Year's day is centuries old," writes Helen Philbrook Patten in her book on "The Year's Festivals." "And began with the ancient Germans. We have a glimpse of one of these old German feasts, the first of which we have any trace. In the year 14 the Roman Emperor Germanicus was fighting some German tribes just to give his soldiers a little exercise, and, being told by one of his scouts that a certain night was a festival night for the Germans, when they would be absorbed in drinking and feasting, he rushed upon the village and, completely surprising it, captured all its inhabitants."

A Thought For The New Year.

Each one of us is bound to make the little circle in which he lives better and happier; each of us is bound to see that out of that small circle the widest good may flow; each of us may have fixed in his mind the thought that out of a single household may flow influence which shall stimulate the whole commonwealth and the whole civilized world.—Dean Stanley.

"Smile Up."

"Smile up" is about the best, most durable, wearable and stylish New Year's resolution to make. Good nature is a fine thing to have on hand and never becomes vulgarly common. After a time, when you become skillful in smiling, you can grin away a toothache—almost. At least you can bear it and not issue momentary bullets to the family.

GRANVILLE NEWS

Granville, O., Dec. 13.—James C. Masters, a well-known young man of Bucyrus, who has been visiting friends here for some days, was the victim of a painful accident on Friday. He was walking along the street, when he slipped and fell, his head striking the walk in such a manner that an ugly gash was inflicted. He had the wound dressed, which required a number of stitches.

A large number of Granville people attended the entertainment given by the Al Field minstrels, at the Auditorium, in Newark, Saturday, and all were well pleased with the show.

At the next meeting of Altamaha Lodge, Knights of Pythias, the recently elected officers will be installed and there will also be work in the second degree. At the conclusion of the work a lunch will be served.

The afternoon was pleasantly passed in social intercourse, and delightful music rendered by Charles McInturf and sister, Miss May.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poison and blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

FACTS FROM FRANCE.

The French academy hopes to complete the letter "C" of the eighth edition of its dictionary by the end of next year. The edition was begun in 1877, so that at this rate the entire work will be finished in 250 years.

The Academie de Medecine will found an institute for the study of cancer. Baron Henri de Rothschild gave 100,000 francs. Other gifts swell the fund to 140,000 francs, and an appeal will be made to the public for more.

Paris has received a cargo of roots that are exactly like carrots, except that they are almost black outside and striped and mottled black when cut in sections. They grow freely in Algeria. They are declared to be better than red carrots.

A French expert objects to apples being packed in barrels. The fruit in the lower layers has to bear so great a weight that it becomes bruised. He suggests rectangular boxes, with three layers of apples, sheets of paper between each layer and about sixty pounds of fruit to the box.

A GOOD FACULTY

The school for your boy or girl is the one that will give him or her the most thorough and practical training at the least cost, in the shortest time consistent with thoroughness. One that will teach nothing that is superfluous and omit nothing that is essential.

Bliss College gives the most thorough training because its teachers are capable and of wide and practical experience.

Prof. J. T. Yates will have charge of the shorthand department. Mr. Yates was born at Andover, Ohio, in 1864, and was educated in the public schools of that place. In 1887 he completed the course and received the degree Bachelor of Science at New Lyme Institute. After teaching in the Andover schools for two years he graduated from the shorthand department at the Spencerian Business College at Cleveland, O. Then followed five years as a stenographer and private secretary to a man of large affairs. In 1897 Mr. Yates was made principal of the shorthand department at the Jamestown, N. Y., business College, remaining there six years.

Following this he received a call to accept the principalship at the shorthand department of the famous Albany Business University, of Albany, N. Y., a school which has a daily attendance of 800 pupils. Mr. Yates held this last position for over three years, when he recently signed to accept the shorthand principalship of Bliss College. This brings to Newark one of the highest salaried teachers in the state.

Mr. C. S. Jackson, the commercial teacher, for the past four years—previous to his connection with Bliss College in September last—was bookkeeper for the Columbus Buggy Co., in its immense establishment at Columbus, Ohio, and during that time had charge of a large part of the Y. M. C. A. educational work. Previous to this employment he was associated with Mr. Yates on the faculty of the Jamestown, N. Y., Business College. After two years' stay in Jamestown Mr. Jackson taught penmanship and engrossing in the Zanerian Art College, Columbus, Ohio. Then followed his connection with the Dallas Business University of Dallas, Texas. It will readily be seen that he has enjoyed exceptional facilities for studying business methods from all viewpoints, and it is doubtful if any other instructor in Ohio has had equal advantages in this respect.

He not only knows how business is conducted from actual experience but knows equally well how to impart that knowledge to others. As a penman Mr. Jackson has no superior.

Miss M. E. High is an associate principal and teacher. She is a graduate of Bliss College, Columbus, at Columbus, Ohio, and after graduation was employed as a teacher in that institution for two years. This education and experience has been supplemented by considerable work as a teacher in the public schools; and her training has fitted her in an eminent degree to handle pupils in such a way as to develop their ability in the most thorough manner and the shortest time.

This able corps of teachers places

BLISS COLLEGE OF NEWARK

in the very front rank of commercial schools.

FORAKER

Prepares For Continuance of Discussion of Brownsville Affair.

Washington, Dec. 31. — Congress will reconvene at 12 o'clock Thursday, but it is not expected that much business will be transacted in either house until the week following. The purpose is, in a general way, to proceed with the appropriation bills as rapidly as possible. It is known to be Senator Foraker's wish to secure early consideration by the senate of his resolution for a senatorial investigation of the Brownsville (Tex.) episode, in which the discharged negro troops of the Twenty-fifth regiment are accused of participating, and he has been devoting much of the time of the recess to preparation for the continuance of his discussion of that subject. The question of Senator Smoot's eligibility is also in condition to be considered by the senate, but as Senator Foraker is counted on by the Utah senator's friends to lead in his defense, it is understood that the question will be deferred for a time, if not indefinitely.

TREATMENT SUCCESSFUL.

The Maddening Disease, Rheumatism Easily Cured With Uric-O.

It might be said that Rheumatism sufferers of this country to learn the wonderful work that Uric-O is doing towards the relief and cure of this dreaded disease. Letters of praise are received daily from men and women who have used the remedy with the greatest success. The manufacturers of this wonderful Specific have never solicited a testimonial or a word of praise from people who have used the remedy. Let, letters like the one given below are being received from both old and young:

Mr. Reuben Whipple, grocery clerk of Glens Falls, N. Y., says: "I was laid up with severe form of Rheumatism, and was confined to my room for nine weeks. A sample bottle of Uric-O, and one regular bottle has worked a wonderful change in me. It has entirely cured my Rheumatism, and I am now able to go about my work again. I recommended the remedy to Mr. John Harris, of East Lake George, who was unable to walk. He had taken every possible treatment, had spent hundreds of dollars, and had found no relief. He is taking Uric-O, and is improving rapidly and able to be out around. I will continue to recommend Uric-O, as it is certainly a merited remedy."

Uric-O is sold by Druggists generally at $1.00 per bottle, or it will be sent by the SMITH DRUG COMPANY, of SYRACUSE, N. Y., upon receipt of price. Liberal size samples and circulars will be mailed free to all who apply for same.

Uric-O is sold and recommended at Newark by Frank D. Hall, North Side Square.

Proposed Law Unsatisfactory.

Washington, Dec. 31.—Vigorous objection will be interposed by the churches of Washington to the uniform divorce law agreed on at the recent convention of the national congress of uniform divorce laws held in Philadelphia. The ministers of Washington, it is announced, propose to organize a movement to oppose the proposed law.

Snowstorms in England.

London, Dec. 31.—Snowstorms continue in various parts of England, but with less severity, and there are signs in southern England of milder weather. During the snowstorm Sunday the Swedish steamer Orion, in leaving Grimsby, was run down in the river Humber by the liner Idaho from New York. The Orion sank in five minutes, but the crew was saved by the Idaho.

INCREASE URGED

Of the Salaries of Postal Clerks and Mail Carriers.

Washington, Dec. 31. — Failure at this time to increase materially the compensation of postoffice employees, thus keeping pace with the advancing wages in other lines of employment, and increased cost of living, will seriously jeopardize the efficiency of the service. This statement is taken from the annual report of First Assistant Postmaster General Hitchcock. The need of new legislation to make the postal service more attractive in order to retain present employees, and as an inducement for good men to enter the service, is extensively treated by Mr. Hitchcock, who presents a plan for the consideration of congress. Resignations from the service have increased at an alarming rate, and the standard of men going into the service has greatly deteriorated in the last fiscal year. This plan is suggested by Mr. Hitchcock: Establishing for both of these classes of employees six grades of compensation, the annual salary to be $600 for the initial grade, $800 for the second grade, and for the four succeeding grades $900, $1,000, $1,100 and $1,200 respectively; and of providing for the advancement of clerks and carriers in the first-class offices from the $600 initial grade to $800 after one year's service, to $900 after two years' service, to $1,000 after three years' service and for the advancement of clerks and carriers in second-class offices to $800 after one year's service, to $900 after two years' service.

SPECIAL ELECTION ON WATER WORKS HERE MONDAY

Newark voters are today casting their ballots to decide whether the city shall issue $280,000 additional water works bonds. To carry the proposition must receive a two-thirds vote.

At 2:30 p. m. six precincts reported a total of 371 votes or an average of 55 votes to the precinct. If this same ratio prevails over the city it indicates a vote at 2:30 of 1425. This is very light but a heavier vote is expected towards evening. Many say the vote seems to be about evenly divided for and against the proposition.

Deadwood, S. D., Dec. 31. — Three hundred members of Terry Peak Miners' union met here and voted unanimously to strike if the operators do not grant them an eight-hour workday by Jan. 1. It is said that 400 miners will go out.

DIGESTION DECIDES IT.

Good Digestion More Than Half the Battle.

Life is a ceaseless struggle for success because success is supposed to insure happiness.

Ambition and ability make for success, but without health too, failure is more than probable.

If the digestion is poor, the nerves unsteady, the blood thin, the weight less than it should be, and ambition and energy at low tide because of stomach trouble, failure is almost a certainty.

Whether you make much or little of life, whether you fail or succeed, your digestion largely decides it. So confident are W. A. Erman & Son that Pepsicola Tablets will renew your energy, drive away that tired feeling, give tone to the digestion, improve your appetite, bring up your weight to where it should be, put new color into your cheeks and new life into your stomach, that they continue to sell this grand dyspepsia remedy on the money-back plan.

Have confidence. The guarantee absolutely protects you. Erman & Son will gladly pay you back your quarter if at the end of the ten days' treatment you have not been cured or decidedly benefitted.

1720—Charles Edward (Louis Philip Casimir), an English prince who claimed the throne of the Stuarts, born; died 1788. As "Prince Charlie" and the "Young Pretender" Charles Edward figures in history and in romance as a picturesque character. He was the grandson of James II., who abandoned the British throne in 1746; the prince landed in Scotland, and the highlanders raised the standard of the Stuarts. Edinburgh was captured and the British baffled at all points. At Preston Pans the king's army was annihilated in five minutes, but at Culloden, owing to jealousy among the highlanders, Prince Charlie was overwhelmed. LARGE ESTATE LEFT BY CONEY

LETTER SENT TO NEWARK POLICE DEPARTMENT FOR DEAD MAN'S RELATIVE.

Wants Names of All Coneys Named in City Directory—A Chance For Someone To Get Rich.

If you name is Coney, or if you have relatives of that name, you are perhaps lucky. An opportunity offers itself to people of that name to get in on the division of a large fortune left by a relative of that name who died recently at Los Angeles, Cal. Chief Sheridan received the following letter this morning which may prove of interest to Newark people:

"Los Angeles, Ca., Dec. 23, 1906. "Chief of Police:

"Dear Sir—A very large estate has fallen to the Coney family, of which there are some members in Newark, but have not their initials. If one of the boys will send me a list of the Coneys as appear in the directory, I will remit to him for the trouble.

"Very truly,

SLIGHT CUT ON ARM RESULTS IN NECROSIS

Because of necrosis of the bones of the right fore arm, caused from a slight cut on one of the fingers, sustained while peeling apples last fall, Mrs. Henry Miller, residing at 60 Bowers avenue, West Newark, underwent the amputation of the arm, just below the elbow, Sunday morning at the Newark Sanitarium.

Drs. B. F. Barnes and J. G. Shirer performed the operation and the patient is reported to be resting well. The cut sustained by Mrs. Miller while peeling apples, was at first regarded as a mere scratch of no importance. After a few days swelling set in and the injured member began paining her so much that it was almost unendurable. She at once sought medical attention and it was thought that with little treatment the effects of the cut would disappear, but such was not the case. An X-ray examination showed that the bones had become necrosed and the operation was considered the only means of saving the life of the patient.

Uncle Samuel's New Year's Day

It Has Been Shortened to Four Hours by His Insular Acquisitions.

If the people of the greater United States and territories want to celebrate New Year's all on the same day they would better get up early and start celebrating early in some parts thereof. There will be about three hours and forty minutes only when it will be Tuesday, Jan. 1, over all the United States' possession. This does not take into consideration the Aleutian islands. Even that international date line in the middle of the Pacific, where days are lost and gained, is twisted and turned about when it gets up among the Aleutians. Singularly enough, those possessions in the Pacific, Hawaii and Guam, which lie comparatively near each other, er, will have to be more careful not to celebrate New Year's on two different days than will Porto Rico and the Philippines. That is because they lie the one on the one side and the other on the other of the mystical line in the Pacific, the place where the day begins. That line is the antipodes of the meridian of Greenwich and is taken by common consent of the nations as the birthplace of the new day and the burial place of the old one.

HER PHANTOM STILL CRUISES ABOUT.

When it is noon at Greenwich it is midnight on that line. If we stand looking toward the north the old day is ending on our left and the new day is beginning on our right. There east and west meet. Miles across the seas to our right is Hawaii, our far western possession, and away to our left is Guam, our far eastern possession. Now, three hours and forty minutes after the midnight of Monday strikes from the church towers of Honolulu and Tuesday, Jan. 1, begins the watchman in the streets of Guam (if there is a watchman) will cry out the midnight hour, and Jan. 2 will begin for Guam. Meantime here in the United States we have a considerable margin of safety. Until recently the most eastern town in the United States was Eastport, Me. But now, even leaving out far Guam and the Philippines, we have, right on the Atlantic coast, a more eastern city than Eastport in San Juan, Porto Rico, through which passes the sixty-sixth meridian west from Greenwich.

So, starting from San Juan and going west until our west becomes east, in order that the Porto Ricans, the "down easterners," the New Yorkers, the Chicagoites, the San Franciscans, the Hawaiians and the people of Guam may drink a glass with Governor General Smith at Manila, we will fix the time of drinking the toast in San Juan at thirty-six minutes past 7 in the morning. It is then high noon at Greenwich, and we have a margin of safety for the United States in getting in a celebration of New Year's on the same day. At noon, Greenwich, Jan. 1, the following will be the times of day at the places named below:

San Juan, Porto Rico	7:36 o'clock a. m.
Eastport, Me.	7:32 o'clock a. m.
New York	7:04 o'clock a. m.
Chicago	6:08 o'clock a. m.
San Francisco	5:48 o'clock a. m.
Honolulu	1:20 o'clock a. m.
Guam	9:40 o'clock p. m.
Manila	8:00 o'clock p. m.

That is about as fair an arrangement as can be made, though it gives the Hawaiians only two hours and twenty minutes to celebrate.

The "international date line" in the Pacific, where the day begins, follows the one hundred and eightieth meridian for most of its course. In the south Pacific, however, it is deflected to the eastward just north of Fiji and does not get back to the meridian again until it reaches 55 degrees south latitude. In the north Pacific it is sent to the westward to avoid the Aleutian islands. This is to keep it off the land so that there will be no community where it is today on one side of the street and tomorrow on the other. Ships in crossing this line either add a day or drop a day, according to which way they are going.

There is a legend of an old Spanish ship of the days of exploration which once crossed this line without knowing it and lost a day. When she got back to port a day short she was sent out again to find the day, and her phantom still cruises about in the middle of the Pacific ocean looking for the lost day.—New York Press.

A Barnyard Idyl.

THIS is our cow, Evangeline. Her coat is soft and smooth as silk. My sister Mary always says she thinks Evangeline's lined with milk.

We nearly lost our Cymbeline. One night from out the barn she fled. But two weeks later in the yard stood Cymbeline and almost dead.

And here is little Archibald. From his big eyes the tear drops pour. The butcher carried his mother off, and Archibald bawled a week or more.

Now see our puppy, Hilda. She sits all day upon the stoop. Pa says, when he gets off to town, "Let Hilda guard the chicken coop."

Our rooster is Sir Galahad. With spurs so long and heart so stout, but in a recent family row Sir Galahad an eye kicked out.—B. E. Dickey in Judge.

Why He Left.

It is difficult for one unfamiliar with the Australian bush to realize the absolute silence and utter loneliness of the country. Two men were camping together, but rarely exchanged a word. One morning at breakfast one of them remarked, "Heard a cow bellow in the swamp just now."

Nothing further was said, and they went about their business for the rest of the day. Twenty-four hours later, once more at breakfast, the second man inquired, "How do you know 'twasnt a bull?"

Again no comment. Another pause of twenty-four hours. Next morning the first man began to pack up his "billy" and "swag." "You goin'?" asked the other.

"Yes."

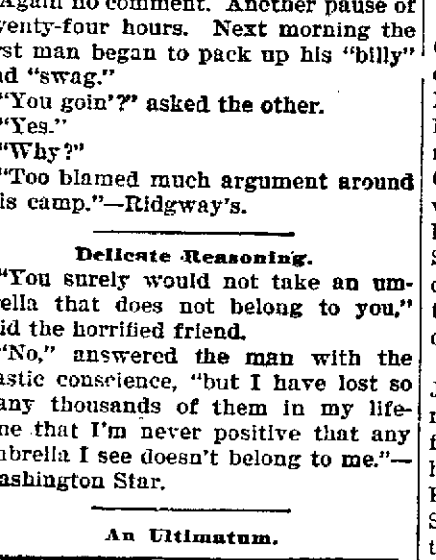

"Why?"

"Too blamed much argument around this camp."—Ridgways.

Delicate Reasoning.

"You surely would not take an umbrella that does not belong to you," said the horrified friend.

"No," answered the man with the elastic conscience, "but I have lost so many thousands of them in my lifetime that I'm never positive that any umbrella I see doesn't belong to me."—Washington Star.

An Ultimatum.

The Squire's Lady—I haven't seen old George Gibbs about lately, William. Where is he?

William—Oh, 'e 'ad a row w' the borough council and left 'is job. (Pause.) An' if they ain't careful next thing'll be they'll lose me too!—By-stander.

A Mean Advantage.

"I cannot cure you," said Dr. Fox, "unless you promise to do exactly what I tell you. Do you solemnly promise?"

"I do," replied the patient.

"All right. Let me have your check for that old account that has been standing for so long."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Sent to Bed.

Mamma—There, Dick, you just go right to bed without a mouthful of supper.

Dick—Oh, mamma, I can't sleep on an empty stomach.

Mamma—Then turn over on your back.—Judge.

A General Shortness.

"The fitness of inanimate things is sometimes amazing."

"What do you mean?"

"The day after the last day for paying taxes is the shortest day of the year."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Beyond a Mere Me.

"Oh, I'm so sorry I couldn't come to your 'at home' yesterday."

"Dear me, weren't you there?"

"Why, of course I was—bawled silly of me. I quite forgot."—Punch.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

MRS. CAREY F. FERGUSON.

Mrs. Jennie Ferguson, wife of Mr. Carey F. Ferguson the well known carriage painter, died at the Newark Hospital Monday morning at 8:30. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson had recently returned from a month's visit at Charleston, S. C., and Mrs. Ferguson while never robust, seemed to be in her usual health, but was taken ill Saturday and internal hemorrhages occurring Sunday she was taken to the hospital in the vain hope that an operation would save her life.

Mrs. Ferguson's maiden name was Jennie Sebring. She was united in marriage to C. F. Ferguson in Blissfield, Mich., 14 years ago, and would have been 33 years of age next April. Besides her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sebring of Blissfield, two sisters and three brothers, one of whom Leo Sebring, has made his home in Newark for some time, survive her.

Mrs. Ferguson was an active member of the Plymouth Congregational church, and was a woman of rare Christian character, beloved by all who knew her. The funeral will take place from Plymouth Congregational church Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. the services being conducted by the Rev. T. L. Kiernan, the pastor.

ALBERT SAVAGE'S FUNERAL.

Hebron, Dec. 31.—The funeral of Albert Savage who was found dead in bed Saturday morning, will take place Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, from his late home here. Rev. E. T. Kempier will officiate. The services will be in charge of the Modern Modern Woodmen lodge of Newark. Interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery, Newark.

MRS. MATILDA SLOCUM DIES.

Hebron, Dec. 31.—Mrs. Matilda Slocum, wife of Isaac Slocum died on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the home of her son, Thomas Slocum, three miles north of Hebron, after a brief illness. Mrs. Slocum was 67 years old and has resided in the vicinity of Hebron for many years. She was a consistent Christian woman and was a member of the Licking Baptist church. She leaves three children, Thomas at whose home she died, Linden Slocum of Reynoldsburg, and Mrs. L. W. Bounds of Buckeye Lake. She leaves three sisters and two brothers, all living in the vicinity of Hebron.

The funeral services will be held Tuesday in Licking Baptist church, at 2 o'clock, the Rev. Mr. McCall officiating. The body will be laid to rest in the cemetery adjoining the church.

JOHN A. FARWELL.

A copy of the National Eagle published at Claremont, N. H., has been received by Newark people, giving an account of the death of John A. Farwell, a former resident of Newark. Mr. Farwell died December 15. Mr. Farwell resided in Newark many years ago and occupied the house where Charles Follett now lives.

MISS DAISY WALRATH.

Miss Daisy Walrath, formerly of this city, died at her home in Pasadena, Cal., Friday night, after a long illness from tuberculosis. There remained a brother, Lon, of Chicago, and a sister, Mrs. Sylvester Kline, of West Church street, this city.

Former Granville Young Man Will be Clerk to Supreme Judge of West Virginia.

Attorney John Alden Purinton, formerly of Granville, O., son of Dr. D. B. Purinton, has accepted the position of clerk to Judge Frank Cox of the Supreme court of West Virginia. Mr. Purinton leaves Morgantown, with Judge Cox for Galveston, Wednesday, January 2, to begin his new duties. The position is a desirable one, with a salary of $1,500, and was held for some time by Attorney W. S. John.

The position was offered to Mr. Purinton last week. He was in Wellsburg for the Christmas holidays with Mrs. Purinton, and returned to Morgantown Thursday night. It is understood that Mrs. Purinton will retain her position in the university until the close of the scholastic year.

Thomas A. Logan, 73, widely known as an attorney and father of Lieutenant Commander George W. Logan, of the United States navy, died at his home in Cincinnati, O.

Pope received many donations to help him in the difficulties with France. They include $400,000 from Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, and $400,000 from Cardinal Vashary, archbishop of Gran, Hungary.

FALL OF ROCKS BREAKS ARM OF A MOTORMAN

Motorman E. A. Ryan and passengers on the last eastbound car of the C. N. & Z. Sunday night had a narrow escape from death or serious injury when a number of heavy rocks and loose soil gave way and fell from the cliffs just east of the Black Hand tunnel as car No. 65, in charge of Conductor L. D. Beaumont and Motorman Ryan, whizzed past on the track beneath. As it was, Motorman Ryan was struck by a large rock, which crashed through the front vestibule windows, and sustained a severe fracture of the left arm beside bad bruises of the shoulder and side. No others were injured.

The slide of boulders came without the slightest warning, having been loosened by the damp weather. The car was well filled with travelers who considered themselves very fortunate that they were not thrown into the river some 30 feet below.

Conductor Beaumont brought the car to this city and Motorman Ryan was taken to the Newark Sanitarium where Drs. Postal of Black Hand, and Stedem of this city, cared for him. He resides at 362 West Church street.

REV. C. J. ROSE HURT.

Granville, O., Dec. 31.—The Rev. C. J. Rose is suffering from a broken collarbone. He sustained the injury in Mansfield, slipping and falling on a pavement while on his way to a railway station.

BIG RAT HUNT.

Bladensburg, Dec. 31.—The great rat hunt which has been in progress here for some time, came to an end Thursday night. The side captained by Mr. Denney won out, they having a total of 6,542 dead rats to their credit. The losing side which was captained by Andrew Ryan entertained the winners Saturday night.

MRS. J. FRANK WARD DEAD.

Brandon, O., Dec. 31.—Mrs. J. Frank Ward, wife of ex-County Infirmary Director Ward, died at her home after an illness of five weeks, aged 33 years. Mrs. Ward is survived by her husband and five children.

SEEKS NO PARDON.

Columbus, O., Dec. 31.—L. P. Ohliger, the Wooster banker, serving eight years in the penitentiary for wrecking the Wooster National bank, denies having contemplated an appeal to President Roosevelt for his pardon from prison.

MRS. ABIGAIL SAMS DEAD.

Jacksontown, Dec. 31.—Mrs. Abigail Sams, a well known and highly esteemed woman of this village, died Sunday morning unexpectedly of the infirmities of old age. Mrs. Sams was long a member of the U. B. church where the funeral will be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Mr. A. G. Burnett of Newark officiating. Mrs. Sams was about 75 years old, and though she had been in ill health for several months, her death came as a shock to her many friends.

LOCATES IN COLUMBUS.

Jacksontown, Dec. 31.—Dr. M. J. Rarick of this place, who has recently returned from the East where he has taken a post graduate course in several hospitals, left today for Columbus, where he will locate an office in Eighth avenue. Dr. Rarick graduated over a year ago from a college of medicine and took a post graduate course in the Williamsburg Hospital, Brooklyn, besides other institutions. He has been visiting at the home of his wife's people, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Crow of Jacksontown.

DR. CORNWELL ELECTED.

Columbus, O., Dec. 31.—The Ohio Osteopathic society held its annual convention at the Chittenden hotel Saturday. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. H. E. Worstel of Canton, vice president, Dr. L. E. Bumstead of Delaware; secretary, Dr. G.

H. Cosner of Upper Sandusky; treasurer, Dr. W. S. Pearce of Lima. Dr. F. E. Cornwell of Newark was chosen on the executive committee.

CLAIMS HE ABUSED HEIL.

Zanesville, Dec. 31.—Mrs. Guy Lee Watson, formerly Miss Bertha Warner, a handsome young society woman of this city, filed a suit for divorce Saturday evening. The marriage of the young couple about two years ago was a big event in Zanesville society. Watson was a tax inquisitor.

DREAMED OF BURGLARS.

Delaware, O., Dec. 31.—Arthur Day, son of Dr. C. H. M. Day, dreamed that burglars were in the house. In the morning a window was open and an investigation developed that burglars had been in the house and had secured a small sum of money.

BOY OF 18 SHOT.

Coshocton, O., Dec. 31.—Roy Philaboun, aged 22, accidentally shot and killed his brother Ernest, aged 18, at their home, a mile south of Fresno late Saturday afternoon. The boys were engaged in cleaning a revolver and in some manner the weapon was discharged and the younger brother received the bullet in his right lung. The older brother is prostrated.

NEW GLASS PLANT.

Columbus, O., Dec. 31.—Two dead were filed, one from Minerva Bellinap to Joseph M. Jekel, formerly of Newark, and he in turn deeded the property to the Capital Window & Glass company. Each consideration was $20,770. The property consists of about 20 acres of ground situated near the junction of the C. A. & C. and Pennsylvania lines in Clinton township. The Capital Window & Glass company bought this property for the purpose of building a factory on the site.

A GOOD DODGER.

Delaware, O., Dec. 31.—Levin Miller, a wagon maker, owes his life to his ability to dodge meteors. Coming out on his yard he noticed the meteor and calmly watched its descent, never dreaming it would come within miles of him until it was nearly upon him. It struck exactly where he had been standing and buried itself in the ground.

Feel frozen? Watch out! Just a pinch of laxative, and your blood flows freely, and your stomach empties itself, purges the blood.

SHORT STORIES.

An average man needs 1,000 pounds weight of food yearly.

Over 4,000,000 bottles of pickles are eaten weekly in the United States.

General Leonard Wood having recommended the change, our troops in the Philippines are now allowed to do duty in their shirt sleeves.

When Hawaii was discovered by Captain Cook in 1778 it had a population of 200,000. There are now only 31,000 natives on the island.

Every working day of the year there is printed at Washington an average of more than $3,000,000 of new money. Every day there is destroyed practically the same amount.

Beer drinking in the United States is on the increase. The total consumption in the past year amounted to 1,061,626 barrels, or thirty-one gallons for each inhabitant. In the previous year 49,153,539 barrels were consumed.

Even when orchid flowers are fully developed they may remain uncut on the plant two or three weeks without apparent deterioration. This gives them manifest advantage over most of the flowers that have to be cut immediately on reaching maturity.

LIFE CERTIFICATES GRANTED BY BOARD

Columbus, Dec. 31.—Late Saturday night the state board of school examiners announced the list of successful applicants for high and common school life certificates, and took the examination held at Columbus last week.

Of the 21 persons applying, 19 were absent and two withdrew. Of the 12 matriculated, 39 were granted high school certificates, 12 common school and two were granted special certificates. Twelve failed to make the necessary grades.

In the list of those who were successful, the following names of Central Ohio teachers appear:

High school: Clifford G. Cline, Crookston; H. W. Holcomb, Zanesville; and Elizabeth M. Scott, Lebanon.

Common school: Edward P. Child, Newark; Walter L. Everhart, Warsaw; Lee W. McKinnon, Granville; Charles W. Maston, Fresno; George R. Waman, McConnelsville; Fannie M. Corliss, Palmy; Juna Scrimm, Circleville.

From Columbus, whose name is found in the above list, expects soon to try for a life certificate as a high school teacher. It is necessary to hold a common school life certificate before taking the other examination.

GENERAL NEWS OF BUCKEYEDOM

OHIO SHERIFFS NAME WIVES
FOR MATRONS OF COUNTY JAILS.

Demand for Mill Men—Sequel to Quarrel—Canton Tragedy—New Scale for Miners.

Columbus, O., Dec. 31.—Sheriffs in the rural counties of the state have discovered a new source of income under the salary law which goes into effect Tuesday. In none of the rural counties, even in those as populous as Allen, Hancock, Van Wert, Crawford and many others, has there ever been such a position as "matron of the county jail." Under the new salary law this office is provided for, the sheriff being empowered to name the incumbent, under sanction of probate judges, who in turn are authorized to set the salary of such matron. Acting under this law Sheriff Henry Van Guntlen of Allen county and 50 other sheriffs of the rural counties have named their wives as "matrons," and the better halves will now draw from $25 to $50 a month pin money.

Demand of Mill Men.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 31.—Secretary Goldsmith of the Ohio Federation of Labor announced that arrangements are being made to hold here a meeting of representatives of blast furnaces and coke workers employed in the mills of the Mahoning and Shenango valleys, at which demands will be formulated for an 8-hour day. The men are working 12 hours a day.

Sequel to Quarrel.

New Philadelphia, O., Dec. 31.— Shedd Benn of Portsmouth, who shot and instantly killed Joseph Eyre at Bolvay as a result of a quarrel over a card game, is in jail here. He claims Eyre knocked him down first and he shot him in self-defense. Benn is a structural iron worker, and single Eyre was employed on the Wabash.

Section Hand's Fate.

Akron, O., Dec. 31.—Lewis Baptiste, a Baltimore & Ohio employe at Lodi, working on the new improvements, was killed beneath a train. The wheels dragged him 100 yards before drawing him under. He lived only long enough to tell his story.

Double Tragedy.

Canton, O., Dec. 31.—William Grutcher walked into the traction station at Louisville, O., and probably fatally shot John Idenhour, a motorman, who was on his car. Grutcher then turned the weapon on himself, death resulting almost instantly.

Sits on Track and Is Killed.

Waverly, O., Dec. 31.—John Graves, intoxicated, sat down upon a cross-tie and was struck by a Norfolk & Western passenger train, sustaining fatal injuries. Graves was a resident of Omega, 50 years old, and leaves a family.

New Scale For Miners.

Columbus, O., Dec. 31.—William Greene, president, and D. H. Sullivan, vice president, of the Ohio Mine Workers will attend a joint conference of the miners and operators of the Pomeroy bend, which will be held at Pomeroy Thursday to make a new scale of wages. Officials of the mine workers say the scale for this bend will be a financial benefit to operators as well as miners, as many of the operators have introduced machinery for the production of coal, and in order to have good results believe they should have competent men to take charge of them.

Cleveland Catholics Protest.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 31.—Resolutions deploring the action of France toward the Roman Catholic church in that country were adopted at a mass meeting of the Federation of Catholic Societies. The meeting represented 150,000 members. Bishop Ignatius F.
Horstmann of the diocese of Cleveland presided.

Victim of Robbers.

Pittsburg, Dec. 31.—W. S. Morton, a prominent business man of Cleveland, O., is dying here in the Homeopathic hospital from injuries inflicted by an un-own assailant, who robbed him of his jewelry and $300 in money in his room at the Annex hotel.

BURGLAR VISITS JOSEPH GOSNELL'S RESIDENCE

A burglar entered the residence of Mr. Joseph Gosnell on North Fourth street Sunday evening but secured nothing. The man was seen by Mrs.
Gosnell as he stood at the foot of her bed. She called out to her niece, who was sleeping in a room nearby, but the man did not move until she called the second time. Mr. Gosnell failed to find anything missing but discovered tracks about the house and found where the man gained entrance by forcing a window at the rear of the house.

Little Johnny's Resolutions

NEXT Tuesday 'll be New Year's day.
Said little Johnny Lake.
"Some resolutions, mom declares,
I really ought to make.
Mom's promised to stop gossipin',
An' so has Sister Sue.
I guess I'll resolve a bit.
Let's see—what shall I do?

"I'll resolve, I guess, to quit
A-splittin' kindlin' wood;
Then I'll have to do that work.
Like fathers always should.
An' then, while I'm a-doin' it,
I'll resolve to quit
The Sunday school, fer goin' there
With me don't make no bit.

"I GUESS I'LL RESOLVE A BIT."

"I'd like to resolve some way
To get myself a goat;
I want a buttin' billy ram
With whiskers on his throat.
An' then I'll resolve, I guess,
To beat up Tommy Hunt;
He's took an' stole my girl from me,
The doggone little runt!

"I reckon that's enough fer me
To resolve just now;
At any rate, I'll make that do—
It's plenty, anyhow.
Let's see—I start on New Year's day.
Well, that ain't very fur.
Won't mom be tickled when she finds How well I've minded her?"
—Denver Post.

A ROYAL POKER GAME.

How King Kalakaua Wound Up His
New Year's Festivities.

C. R. Mackenzie, describing in the St. Louis Republic a New Year's day in old Hawaii, says:

"After dinner we adjourned to the royal library, where we found card tables duly equipped. 'We generally wind up an evening of this kind with a game of poker,' said Kalakaua. 'Are you all content?' Every one was content, and it was my luck to be seated at the king's table.

"Next morning when at breakfast at the hotel one of the king's eunuchs came to my table and placed a chamous bag containing forty ten-dollar pieces in front of me, saying the king had sent them with his compliments. One of the ladies of our party who had witnessed this somewhat unusual proceeding asked me why the king should send me such a present.

"Madam," I replied, 'the shillings and sixpences which in the days of my youth I cast upon missionary waters to buy popguns and blankets for the Sandwich Islanders have this morning been returned to me a hundred fold.'"

Fortune Telling on New Year's Eve.

Fortune telling obtains in rural Germany on New Year's eve. The young people, who gather to peer together into the future, melt a little lead in a long handled ladle. The person who grasps the handle then pours the molten metal into a pail of water, standing well back so as not to be scalded by the splashing water and steam, for the striking of the lead upon the water produces almost the effect of an explosion. If the lead congeals into any shape that can be construed as like a star it is a good augury. If a flim gathers on the surface it means money. Any old woman who is an expert seer can see in the metal and water sure signs of coming marriage, long journeys, sickness or death. The ability to read these riddles is supposed to descend by inheritance from mother to daughter.

New Year's Eve in Italy.

Don't you wish you were an Italian on New Year's? Promptly at the stroke of 12 on New Year's eve there are rustling and bustling and merry laughter as each maiden kisses all the young men she can catch. It is the only moment in the year when custom permits her such a liberty, and she is not slow to take advantage of it. Then, the new year having made its bow, the party breaks up, the young folk take a walk, and the first person of the opposite sex which each roisterer meets is considered destined to be that merymaker's future partner in life.

The annual art calendar exhibit will be a feature of the day again this year. A beautiful collection of pictures has been loaned for the occasion.

The concert in the early afternoon by the Walter Ball company will be a real treat. Mr. Ball who has been singing on the Lyceum platform for the past three years, is a Newark boy and has won an enviable reputation for himself. He will appear with his company for the first time in Newark.
Miss Clinkinbeard, the reader for the company is a reader and dramatic artist of ability. Miss Glein is the pianist for the company.

Considerable interest is also being manifested in the wrestling match between Johnson and Duncan two Y.
M. C. A. athletes. The young men are in fine metal and well matched.

Preceding the entertainment course number at night when Mr. Paul M.
Pearson comes, an informal reception will be held in the parlors from 7 to 8 o'clock.

All young men and friends of the Y. M. C. A. are invited to the afternoon and evening programs.

A supper will be served between 5:30 and 7 to all young men who come.

A basket ball game in the gym is arranged for the Juniors and boys of the town in the morning.

Everything will be free the entire day except the night entertainment in Taylor Hall.

WISNER DIVORCE SUIT.

Detroit, Dec. 31.—The Supreme court of Michigan is called upon to pass on the divorce suit of Anna
Ellen Wisner, grand daughter of ex-Governor Dennison of Ohio. Both parties are well known in Cleveland, Denver and Columbus. Wisner is a former Detroit attorney now holding a $250 a month job with a Mexican gold mining company. The wife secured a divorce some months ago on the grounds of desertion and the husband appeals.

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 31.—Today is the last day of the present stay of Mr. Roosevelt and family at their country lodge.

THE BURNER SYSTEM OF SANITARiums IN CALIFORNIA

PROFESSOR H. RUSSELL

BURNER, M. D., whose home was for many years in Ohio—in fact, he was born at Newark, in this State—has established in California a regular chain of Sanitariums where his celebrated radium, milk and rest cure is administered. The use of radium as a curative agent owes its success very largely to the initiative of Dr. Burner. He was the largest private owner of this valuable "mineral," as it is usually termed, and he has placed his supply at the disposal of his various Sanatariums. It has been found that milk which has been made radio-active is enhanced 50 per cent as food value, and its curative possibilities can scarcely be over-estimated. All chronic diseases seem to yield readily to this form of treatment—which is modified, of course, to suit each particular case. Diseases of the throat, chest and lungs, as well as all forms of nervous troubles are promptly and permanently cured by this remarkable discovery.

California in the winter time is an ideal place to live, and of all the beautiful spots in the Golden State, certainly Los Angeles and the surrounding country can lay claim to first place. Each and everyone of the Burner Sanitariums is an ideal home of rest and beauty, as well as a delightful health-giving place. There are trained nurses, resident physicians, and everything that can be thought of to add to the health and peace of the inmate.

Two of these delightful establishments are situated at Long Beach, Cal., and three of them are in, or near the city of Los Angeles, Cal., so that the patient has the choice of any altitude, and any atmosphere that he or she may choose.

The fullest information, together with profusely illustrated literature, can be obtained from the executive office free of all charge. All correspondence is regarded as confidential and is quite promptly attended to by Dr. Burner personally.
